Dogs are known as lovable pets for everyone to enjoy. They serve as great family pets and most people have one. But there are also known for their relatively short life. Most dogs die at the age 10-13 to some of them reaching a bit over 15. However Bobi is a completely different case to other dogs.

Bobi is a farm dog with believe it or not 30 years. He recently took the title of oldest living dog on february 1 of 2023. In addition to that title he also broke the guinness record for oldest dog ever. Before it was held by bluey female australian dog who was 29 years old before she died. Also Bobi is a purebred Rafeiro do Alentejo this breed of dog has an average life span of 12 to 14 years Bobi has survived double the amount of his peers.

However Bobi originally wasn't supposed to live for that long. Bobi from the beginning had a hard life. He was born with three brothers but the farm family could not support any more animals, so as a twisted custom the puppies were buried. However it was later discovered that one of the puppy was found. Of course that was Bobi and the children of the farm owners hid Bobi until they could convince their parents. After that Bobi was accepted and now has lived happily.

Bobi's long life was attributed to a lot of things. The most important ones of course was plenty of exercise and a healthy diet. However since he is still an elderly dog things like his eyesight and legs have been weakened. Although this does not stop Bobi as he still enjoys life resting and playing around with his feline friends.

Wrapping this story up Bobi is a 30 year old dog who has broken 2 world records. He is a farm dog who had a stroke of luck and was able to live a long life. And thanks to his owners love and care that life is a lot longer than expected. I think that this story shows that with a little love and care things can go a long way. And I think that Bobi is the best example of this.
